20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The Council advises the Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of Commerce on aquatic conservation and restoration endeavors in fresh, estuarine, and marine environments that benefit recreational fishery resources, enhance recreational boating, and encourage partnerships among industry, the public, and government to advance these efforts. The Council accomplishes its purpose by: 1) completing assessments and evaluations of Federal fishing and boating programs requested by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (Service) and other agencies; and 2) recommending policies that improve aquatic resources conservation, fishing, or boating. Previously, the Council had completed evaluations of the Service's overall fisheries program and boating grant programs administered by the Service. The Council's efforts and collaboration with Federal agencies will provide the Department of the Interior and the Department of Commerce with insights and input on Federal fishing and boating programs.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

Discretionary members are appointed by the Secretaries on a staggered term basis for terms not to exceed 3 years. Appointees will be selected from among, but not limited to, the following national interest groups: State fish and wildlife resource management agencies (two members, one a director of a coastal state and one a director of an inland state), Saltwater and freshwater recreational fishing organizations, Recreational boating organizations, Recreational fishing and boating industries, Recreational fishery resource conservation organizations, Tribal resource management organizations, Aquatic resource outreach and education organizations, and Recreational fishing and/or boating diversity-based organizations.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

The Council typically meets 2-4 times per year via teleconference or in-person. The frequency of the meetings is dictated primarily by the Council's progress with program reviews and assessments. The meetings are relevant to the Department of the Interior and the Department of Commerce because the Council's program reviews and their assessments provide guidance and recommendations to the Secretaries on Federal agencies' fishing and boating programs.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

The Council is comprised of national and regional leaders in angling and boating who represent a wide range of stakeholders. There is no equivalent committee or forum where these stakeholders interact together collectively to provide a comprehensive, well-rounded perspective on Federal fishing and boating programs.

Accordingly, the Council's diverse set of organizational representatives ensures that a wide range of stakeholders' viewpoints are shared with the Department of the Interior and the Department of Commerce.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

N/A. All meetings of the Council are open to the public.

21. Remarks

The Council did not meet in FY 2023. The Council is now required by section 28001(d) of the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act of 2021, which requires that the Council advise the Secretary of Interior and the Secretary of Commerce, effective January 1, 2023. The Departments of the Interior and Commerce have been working to fill all 16 of the vacant membership positions.

Cost Savings Comments

The Council's evaluations of Federal programs and policy recommendations seek to improve the overall effectiveness and efficiency of Federal efforts. However, it is difficult to quantify specific cost savings. For example, although the Council's review of the National Outreach and Communication Program (Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance number 15.653) provides recommendations on ways to increase the program's overall effectiveness, it does not identify specific cost savings associated with these proposed changes.

What is the approximate Number of recommendations produced by this committee for the life of the committee?
