20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The purpose of the Civil Nuclear Trade Advisory Committee (CINTAC or Committee) is to advise the Secretary of Commerce on the development and administration of programs to expand U.S. exports of civil nuclear goods and services in accordance with applicable U.S. regulations. Its advice is used to develop U.S. Department of Commerce (Department) programs and activities in its role as a member of the Trade Promotion Coordinating Committee Working Group on Civil Nuclear Trade. The committee, comprised of industry representatives, provides for greater U.S. Government (USG) and U.S. industry coordination on international civil nuclear energy issues and on U.S. international and commercial strategic objectives.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

Current members represent U.S. exporters of civil nuclear products and services and reflect the diversity of this sector, including company size and geographic location, and come from U.S. trade associations and private sector organizations involved in the manufacture, promotion and export of civil nuclear products and services. Subsectors of the industry include, but are not limited to consulting and legal services, reactor designers, engineering and construction companies and fuel services technologies providers.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

The estimated number of meetings is 4 per year; in FY2023 the committee met 3 times.

Discussions provide the Department with perspective on industry's interests in the international market share. Foreign state-owned competitors are one of the U.S. industry's greatest challenges. This Committee empowers the Department to support increased U.S. exports and U.S. job creation in the civil nuclear sector in ways not previously addressed. Meeting agendas are focused around pressing trade challenges for which the Department seeks industry advice.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

The CINTAC is the only Federal advisory body with a balanced representation of civil nuclear energy companies and organizations tasked with examining the export competitiveness of the civil nuclear energy industry. These viewpoints are not available from other advisory committees.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

Discussion of matters determined to be exempt from the provisions relating to public meetings are found in the FACA code at 5 U.S.C. app 2 §§ (10)(a)1 and 10 (a)(3). Potential topics discussed by the Committee may include: nuclear cooperation agreements, CSC, international used nuclear fuel options, trade barriers, research and development, new innovations and USG advocacy. As such, these topics contain information that is business confidential, may address particularly sensitive programs and activities of the U.S. government, reveal financial information about the industry or Committee participants and is of a sensitive nature (fuel supply and nonproliferation issues, for example).

Narrative Description

To ensure that U.S. civil nuclear commercial interests advance alongside U.S. nonproliferation policy in the expansion of nuclear energy, a need exists for consensus advice from U.S. industry to the USG on how U.S. foreign policies, programs, and activities will affect the U.S. nuclear industry's competitiveness and ability to participate in the international market. CINTAC will advise the Secretary of Commerce regarding the development and administration of programs to expand U.S. exports of civil nuclear goods and services in accordance with applicable U.S. regulations. The Department of Commerce would use this advice to carry out its activities and in its role as a member of the Trade Promotion Coordinating Committee (TPCC) Working Group on Civil Nuclear Trade. The CINTAC, comprised of industry representatives, would provide for greater USG and U.S. industry coordination on international civil nuclear energy issues and on U.S. international and commercial strategic objectives.
