20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The PECSEA advised the Secretary of Commerce or the Secretary's designee on matters and issues pertinent to implementation of Export Control Reform Act of 2018 (ECRA) (50 U.S.C. § 4801 et seq.) and other relevant laws and regulations administered by BIS. The PECSEA provided advice and made recommendations on protecting U.S. national security and foreign policy concerns through the administration of export controls without unduly harming U.S. technology leadership and commercial trade, while also strengthening the U.S. defense industrial base.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

BIS did not appoint any members to PECSEA in FY25. The PECSEA was composed of members who are senior executives selected from industry and other non-governmental organizations, drawn from among members of the PEC and other representatives of industry and other non-governmental organizations who are exporters of or otherwise engaged in activities related to items that are presently controlled under the Export Administration Regulations or are proposed for such control, balanced to the extent possible among large and small firms. Since the work of the PECSEA affected a broad range of export controls, BIS considered it important that the PECSEA assured perspectives reflecting the breadth of the Committee's responsibility, including through diverse membership.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

Met two to three times per year, the Subcommittee provided the Government with direct input from representatives of the broad range of industries that were directly affected by export controls. The PECSEA was re-established on 1/29/2024. BIS did not hold any meetings in FY25.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

The PECSEA was a high-level industry forum that provided advice and made recommendations to the Department on protecting U.S. national security and foreign policy concerns through the administration of export controls without unduly harming U.S. technology leadership and commercial trade, while also strengthened the U.S. defense industrial base. The functions of the PECSEA could not be performed by the Department nor by any existing advisory committee or Federal agency. The PECSEA provided industry a voice at the highest levels of Government on export control issues, and provided the Government with high-level, strategic expertise from within a broad range of industry perspectives that otherwise would have been unavailable on a consistent and reliable basis.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

N/A

21. Remarks

The President's Export Council, a Presidential advisory committee, was discontinued by the President, so PECSEA terminated on September 30, 2025, consistent with EO 14109 of September 29, 2023.

Designated Federal Officer

Leah Vidovich DFO

Narrative Description

The President's Export Council Subcommittee on Export Administration serves as a resource of ever increasing value as it addresses matters pertinent to the Export Control Reform Act of 2018, the International Emergency Economic Powers Act, and other relevant laws and regulations administered by the Bureau of Industry and Security. The Subcommittee can readily respond to the needs of the Department of Commerce within a dynamic global marketplace for an industry perspective on the effectiveness of current export control policy and make recommendations on protecting U.S. national security and foreign policy concerns through the administration of export controls without unduly harming U.S. technology leadership and commercial trade, while also strengthening the U.S. industrial base.
