20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The Southwest RAC develops recommendations for BLM with respect to the land use planning, classification, retention, management, and disposal of the public lands within the area for which the advisory council is established and such other matters as may be referred to it by the DFO.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

The Southwest RAC is composed of 15 members balanced among the following groups and within those groups: Category I includes those holding Federal grazing permits or leases, interests associated with transportation or rights-of-way, developed outdoor recreation, OHV users, or commercial recreation activities, commercial timber industry or energy and mineral development; Category II includes nationally or regionally recognized environmental organizations, dispersed recreation activities, archaeological and historical interests or nationally or regionally recognized wild horse and burro interest groups; Category III includes state, county or locally elected office-holders, employee of a State agency responsible for the management of natural resources, Indian tribes within or adjacent to the area for which the RAC is organized, are employed as academicians in natural resource management or the natural sciences or represent the public-at-large.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

The SW RAC typically meets 2-4 times per year.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

The Southwest RAC provides the BLM an additional source of expertise from a wide variety of backgrounds from members and others who have a high interest in public land resources and their management. The RAC has demonstrated a willingness to solve problems and work on the basis of consensus and collaboration. The BLM is provided with a source of accurate and timely information and recommendations from a group of individuals keenly aware of their constituents' viewpoints.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

All meetings are open to the public. Notices of the meetings are published in the Federal Register, posted on the BLM Colorado website, and distributed to local newspapers.

21. Remarks

The RAC participated in a joint meeting with the Northwest and Rocky Mountain RACs on March 29, 2023, and participated in a joint meeting with the Rocky Mountain RAC on March 30, 2023. The RAC also met on June 15, 2023. PLEASE NOTE: Accounting for the March 29 meeting is included in the Northwest RAC ACR and the March 30 joint meeting accounting is included in the Rocky Mountain RAC ACR.
