20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The Boston Harbor Islands Advisory Council's purpose is to advise and make recommendations to the Boston Harbor Islands Partnership on the development and implementation of the general management plan for the islands, including ongoing park operations. The Council has two seats on the Boston Harbor Islands Partnership, as required by P.L. 104-333. The Council is the primary mechanism used by the Partnership to consult with the public on matters of park planning and management, doing so through public meetings, workshops, and other general public forums. The Boston Harbor Islands Advisory Council directly aids the NPS in meeting the DOI's goal to "Restore trust and be a good neighbor." Council engagement with the public and with park management promotes transparency and provides a regular channel through which community members and organizations can share information with park management. This Council also furthers the SOI's goal to uphold its responsibilities to foster government-to-government relationship with federally recognized tribes. One Council member is appointed to represent Mashpee Wampanoag, a federally recognized tribe within Massachusetts. Additional benefits to the NPS and DOI stem from the efficiencies created when park managers have one streamlined source to collect information from public interest groups. This reduces the amount of time park staff spends engaging with individual community members and organizations. The Council does the work of capturing broad interest for the government, reducing the amount of staffing needed to collect public comment for planning decisions.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

The Boston Harbor Islands Advisory Council consists of not fewer than 18 individuals, to be appointed by the Secretary, acting through the Director of the National Park Service. The Secretary appoints no fewer than three individuals to represent each of the following categories of entities: municipalities; educational and cultural institutions; environmental organizations; business and commercial entities, including those related to transportation, tourism and the maritime industry; Boston Harbor-related advocacy organizations; and organizations representing Native American interests. Community groups are also represented on the Council.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

The Advisory Council is administratively inactive. The Boston Harbor Islands Advisory Council typically holds four meetings per year. Meetings focus on issues related to Council membership and bylaws, community outreach efforts, anniversaries, general operations, and discussions on the Council's role as a FACA committee and as a voting member of the Boston Harbor Islands Partnership.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

Boston Harbor Islands National Recreation Area Advisory Council was established to represent constituents of the island system. The island system is comprised of 34 islands within the Boston Harbor that are owned by private sector, state, municipal, and USCG entities. This Council seeks advice from concerned citizens and organizations that have an interest in the park, serving as a liaison between park management and the general public. The 28-member Council includes representatives of seven distinct interest groups, representing business and commercial interests, including those related to the maritime industry, tourism, and water transportation; municipalities; volunteer organizations; education and cultural organizations; and Native American interests. Native American interests are of particular importance in management decisions due to the park's enabling legislation that highlights the importance of understanding the history of Native American use and involvement with the islands. The Council has traditionally served as the main vehicle for park management to collect and incorporate the interests and history of Native American communities in park planning. The importance of including other special interest groups, including private industry, local municipalities, and volunteer and advocacy organizations in park planning and decision making stems from the nature of the park and its surrounding community. Located proximal to a large urban landscape, Boston Harbor Islands decision making has the potential to impact many of the local communities it serves. Conversely, the decisions made by these special interest groups have the potential to impact park resources. The Council has proved a useful tool for information sharing and community-responsive planning that allows park managers to gather input, gain an understanding of public perspective, and address questions and concerns in a single forum. This use of a single, stream-lined public input process reduces the amount of time park management spends on engaging with individual community members and organizations. This adds to the park's ability to reach a larger audience with limited federal resources.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

All meetings are open.

21. Remarks

The Advisory Council is administratively inactive and did not meet in FY 2022. (1) EXPECTED CHARTER RENEWAL DATE -- Pursuant to the Commission's enabling legislation (P.L. 104-333), the biennial rechartering provisions of section 14 of the Federal Advisory Committee Act are waived for the Council. (2) EXPECTED COMMITTEE TERMINATION DATE/SPECIFIC TERMINATION AUTHORITY -- The enabling legislation anticipates the Commission will exist into the foreseeable future, without termination.

Designated Federal Officer

Michael Creasy General Superintendent, National Parks of Boston

Narrative Description

Boston Harbor Islands National Recreation Area has unique legislation whereby the National Park Service does not own any land but instead serves as a facilitator at the landscape-scale for planning and coordination of resource management, educational, and operational activities.
