20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The ERISA Advisory Council represents various interest groups and advises the Secretary of Labor in matters relating to his/her responsibilities under Title I of ERISA. During 2017, the Council studied the following issues: (1) Reducing the Burden and Increasing the Effectiveness of Mandated Disclosures with respect to Employment-Based Health Benefit Plans in the Private Sector, and (2) Mandated Disclosure for Retirement Plans – Enhancing Effectiveness for Participants and Sponsors. During 2018, the Council studied the following issues: (1) Evaluating the Department’s Regulations and Guidance on ERISA Bonding Requirements and Exploring Reform Considerations and (2) Lifetime Income Products as a Qualified Default Investment Alternative (QDIA) – Focus on Decumulation and Rollovers. The Council held a series of open meetings, at which the public was invited to testify. The Council submits reports to the Secretary with recommendations based on the findings.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

The Advisory Council was established pursuant to the authority in Section 512(a)(1) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974(ERISA). Of the members appointed, three represent employee organizations, three represent employer organizations, three represent the general public, and one each from the following fields: insurance, corporate trust, actuarial counseling, investment counseling, investment management and accounting. No more than eight members of the Advisory Council may be of the same political party.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

The ERISA Advisory Council meets at least four times a year and at such other times as the Secretary of Labor requires, per section 512(a)(1) of ERISA of 1974. The Council's continuance is mandated by law. Including a teleconference meeting, there have been 5 meetings in each Council year recently. The meetings have a full agenda and are used to hear testimony and work on the issues the Council is studying each year.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

The ERISA Advisory Council is required by statute. As a body, it is unique in its composition. No other organization exists that possesses the professional and technical diversification of views, philosophy, opinions, backgrounds and expertise found in the members of the Advisory Council. Therefore, information and advice might not be readily available from other sources.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

Not Applicable

21. Remarks

The ERISA Advisory Council represents various interest groups and provides recommendations for carrying out the Secretary's responsibilities with respect to provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA). No other organization exists that possesses the professional and technical diversification of views, philosophy, opinions, backgrounds and expertise found in the members of the Advisory Council. The committee reports to the Secretary of Labor through the Assistant Secretary of Labor of the Employee Benefits and Security Administration.

What is the approximate Number of recommendations produced by this committee for the life of the committee?

Number of Recommendations Comments

The ERISA Advisory Council (Council) has existed since 1974. Each year, the Council consults with EBSA and chooses two or three topics to study and generally makes several recommendations per topic. Since FY2002, the Council has made 168 distinct recommendations.

What is the approximate Percentage of these recommendations that have been or will be Fully implemented by the agency?

% of Recommendations Fully Implemented Comments

While the agency has implemented many of the recommendations provided by the Council, EBSA does not specifically track this information in this way. There are many complications involved in such a calculation, including that many of the Council's recommendations were not for specific EBSA action but instead either stated support for actions already underway by EBSA, called for actions beyond the jurisdiction of EBSA, or necessitated statutory changes. Further, in other cases, actions recommended by the Council are currently under consideration and are in some form of completion, but have not yet been implemented. However, as mentioned above, there are many recommendations that EBSA has implemented throughout the years. For example, the 2013 Council report on Locating Missing and Lost Participants recommended the development of effective methods and guidance on searching for missing participants, including use of web search and commercial locator services. In 2014, EBSA issued Field Assistance Bulletin No. 2014-01 on Fiduciary Duties and Missing Participants in Terminated Defined Contribution Plans (the FAB). The FAB provides guidance on search steps and options for dealing with the benefits of missing participants in terminated DC plans. Furthermore, the 2013 Council recommended that if PBGC implemented a missing participants program for terminated DC plans, then compliance with the PBGC program should be accorded safe harbor status under ERISA and it urged cooperation among federal agencies. As recommended by the Council, PBGC staff consulted with EBSA, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and the Department of the Treasury in developing a proposed rule which PBGC issued in September 2016. Last year, EBSA issued a Final Rule on Claims Procedure for Plans Providing Disability Benefits. The preamble to the Final Rule cites the 2012 ERISA Advisory Council report, and include quotes from those reports, in the discussion of what led to the changes. The rule states: "The Department's independent ERISA advisory group also urged the Department to reexamine the disability claims process. Specifically, in 2012, the ERISA Advisory Council undertook a study on issues relating to managing disability in an environment of individual responsibility. The Advisory Council's report included the following recommendation for the Department: Review current claims regulations to determine updates and modifications, drawing upon analogous processes described in health care regulations where appropriate, for disability benefit claims including: (a) content for denials of such claims; (b) rule regarding full and fair review, addressing what is an adequate opportunity to develop the record and address retroactive rescission of an approved benefit; (c) alternatives that would resolve any conflict between the administrative claims and appeals process and the participants' ability to timely bring suit; (d) the applicability of the ERISA claim procedures to offsets and eligibility determinations. The Department agreed that the amendments to the claims regulation for group health plans could serve as an appropriate model for improvements to the claims process for disability claims. EBSA presently is evaluating several more of the Council's recommendations for implementation.

What is the approximate Percentage of these recommendations that have been or will be Partially implemented by the agency?
