20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The Committee accomplishes its purpose by meeting to discuss and address the assessment of the current condition of federally-chartered mutual savings associations, what regulatory changes or other steps OCC may be able to take to ensure the continued health and viability of mutual savings associations, and other issues of concern to mutual savings associations. The Committee provides recommendations to the Comptroller of the Currency based on its findings. The Designated Federal Official (DFO) chairs the MSAAC and leads its meetings.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

In selecting individuals for appointment to the Committee, appropriate consideration is given to selection of mutual savings association officers and directors who have the ability to represent their industry. OCC ensures that diverse views are represented. The 10-member committee includes bankers selected for two-year terms, which may be renewed.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

The Committee generally meets three times each fiscal year.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

OCC recognizes the unique needs of mutual savings associations, particularly during a period of market adjustments and industry change. The Committee will provide OCC with representative perspectives on challenges faced by mutual savings associations and ideas for ensuring their continued health and viability.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

The meetings of this committee are open. If the committee members and the OCC staff discuss confidential supervisory and financial information, the meeting will be closed.

21. Remarks

Mutual savings associations have unique governance and operational characteristics and limitations. The committee provides the OCC an opportunity to understand the challenges facing mutual institutions in the evolving financial services marketplace. The OCC recognizes the value of the committee and renewed the MSAAC charter as of July 2024.

The committee also recommended hosting an annual mutual forum, which the OCC has hosted annually since 2015. The FDIC partnered with the OCC to co-host in 2016, 2018,

The committee discussion on charter flexibility contributed to the inclusion of the Covered Savings Association provisions in the 2018 Economic Growth, Regulatory Relief, and Consumer Protection Act and the OCC implementing regulations and guidance. In 2021, the committee recommended publishing transparent guidance on voluntary liquidations for mutual savings associations.
