20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The Electronic Tax Administration Advisory Committee (ETAAC) provides continuing advice to IRS on the development and implementation of the agency's organizational strategy for electronic tax administration. The ETAAC provides an organized public forum for discussion of electronic tax administration issues such as prevention of identity theft and refund fraud in support of the overriding goal that paperless filing should be the preferred and most convenient method of filing tax and information returns. ETAAC members convey public perceptions of IRS electronic tax administration activities, offer constructive observations about current or proposed policies, programs and procedures and suggest improvements. The ETAAC also provides an annual report to Congress on IRS progress in meeting the Restructuring and Reform Act of 1998 goals for electronic filing of tax and information returns. The ETAAC researches, analyzes, considers and makes recommendations on a wide range of electronic tax administration issues.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

The number of members and membership balance of the ETAAC is not static and varies depending on agency needs. Each ETAAC member is appointed to represent a point of view from within the electronic filing community, including organizations varying in size and type. Each member may also present topics of interest to external stakeholders. ETAAC members represent taxpayers, tax practitioners, tax preparers, computerized tax processors, business owners, state tax administrators, financial service providers and the payroll industry. Subject matter or technical expertise in tax software and electronic filing as they relate to accuracy, security and privacy are necessary to accomplish the tasks of the ETAAC. Members are typically drawn from the areas of state taxation, private tax industry and consumer advocacy.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

The ETAAC conducts at least one but no more than four public meetings, and several working sessions each year. In addition, there is an annual orientation session. Specific issues may require additional meetings.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

ETAAC provides continuing input into the development and implementation of the Internal Revenue Service's IRS strategy for electronic tax administration. ETAAC also provides an organized public forum for discussion of issues involving electronic tax administration. ETAAC members convey the public's perceptions of IRS electronic tax administration activities, offer constructive observations about current or proposed policies, programs, and procedures, and suggest improvements.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

N/A

21. Remarks

The working sessions and orientation listed under "meetings" were held to provide ETAAC members the opportunity to meet with IRS executives and subject matter experts for issue briefings, facilitate discussions, and to analyze and formulate feedback and/or recommendations.
