20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The Public Health Service (PHS) Act states that "the Director, NIH ...shall assure that research at the NIH is subject to review. This committee will be composed of recognized biomedical and/or behavioral research authorities who represent the forefront of research and technical knowledge and who provide evaluation and peer review of Center laboratories and staff scientists in the following areas: basic sciences and clinical research of complementary and integrative health. The committee did not meet in FY2019.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

The Board will consist of 5 members, including the Chair, appointed by the Director, NIH, from authorities knowledgeable in the field of complementary and integrative health, and any additional areas relevant to the research of the intramural senior staff, as the program evolves. Members will be invited to serve for overlapping terms of up to five years.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

The Board did not meet in FY2019. It is anticipated that members will be recruited this year so that the Board may meet in FY2020.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

The Board will be composed of recognized biomedical and or behavioral research authorities who will represent the forefront of basic science and clinical research in complementary and integrative health. Their recommendations cannot be obtained from other sources because the complex nature of research and research program emphasis requires a specialized balance and breadth of expertise not available from NIH staff or from other established sources. The Board will provide to the National Advisory Council for Complementary and Integrative Health a description of its activities for review.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

N/A

21. Remarks

Committee Function: Other - Scientific and Technical Peer Review. Costs for this fiscal year are for administrative support. The committee did not meet in FY19, it is anticipated that the Director plans to develop and implement the program with a focus on the role of the brain in perceiving, modifying, and managing pain. It is anticipated that members will be recruited this year so that the Board may meet in FY2020. The intramural program is also participating in on-going clinical and training programs, which includes investigating the role of the brain in pain processing and control, and how factors such as emotion, attention, environment, and genetics affect pain perception. This committee did not produce any reports during the reporting period. This committee does not have a dedicated website. The Committee Decision Maker and Designated Federal Official are the same individual based on assigned duties within the IC.

Designated Federal Officer

CATHERINE BUSHNELL SCIENTIFIC DIRECTOR

Narrative Description

The goal of NIH research is to acquire new knowledge to help prevent, detect, diagnose, and treat disease and disability, from the rarest genetic disorder to the common cold. The NIH mission is to uncover new knowledge that will lead to better health for everyone. NIH works toward that mission by conducting research in its own laboratories. Section 402(b)(3) of the Public Health Service Act states that “the Director, NIH...shall assure that research at...the National Institutes of Health is subject to review in accordance with section 492.” Section 492(b) states that the “Director of NIH shall establish procedures for periodic technical and scientific peer review of research at the National Institutes of Health. The mission of the Board of Scientific Counselors is to assess the quality of the Institute’s intramural research programs and to evaluate the productivity and performance of intramural scientists and shall also, as requested by the Director, NIH, undertake peer review of extramural funding applications as required by section 492 of the Public Health Service Act, as amended.” This Board will assess the quality of the Institute intramural research programs and evaluate the productivity and performance of staff scientists, necessary functions for the operation of a highly effective intramural research program.
