20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

This committee provides the Secretary of Agriculture with valuable information on actions necessary to prevent, prepare for, and respond to animal health issues of critical important to USDA and to the industry. The purpose is to advise the Secretary of Agriculture on means to prevent, conduct surveillance, monitor, control, or eradicate animal diseases of national importance. The Committee will approach animal health from a one-health perspective, including natural resources, public health, livestock economies, emerging and other diseases, comprehensive surveillance, traceability, import/export strategies, and other related aspects of agriculture.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

Membership will be composed of persons, from a variety of geographic localities, representing a broad spectrum of farmers, scientists, trade association representatives, the university community, and representatives from other groups with related interests. Members shall include but not be limited to representatives from the following groups: (1) cattle producers / cattle producer groups;(2) poultry producers /poultry producer groups;(3) swine producers / swine producer groups;(4) sheep and goat producers / sheep and goat producer organizations;(5) aquaculture producers / aquaculture producer groups;(6) animal welfare organizations;(7) wildlife/zoo biologists or veterinarians (8) veterinarians / veterinary professional organizations;(9) organic producers / organic producer groups;(10) Tribal and State animal health officials;(11) livestock marketing and processing groups. Minor changes were made to the committee balance in the 2016-18 Charter. These changes will be implemented in the 2017-2019 member terms.(1) Cattle producers/cattle producer groups (3);(2) Poultry producers/poultry producer groups (2);(3) Swine producers/swine producer groups (2);(4) Sheep and goat producers/sheep and goat producer organizations (1)(5) Aquaculture producers/aquaculture producer groups (1);(6) Veterinary public health or animal welfare (1);(7) Wildlife/zoo biologists or veterinarians (1);(8) Veterinarians/veterinary professional organizations (2);(9) Agricultural research/academia/scientists (SGE);(10) Veterinary Medical Officer (RGE);(11) Organic producers/organic producer groups (1);(12) Tribal (1);(13) State animal health officials (2); and(14) Livestock marketing and processing groups (1).

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

The Committee meets once per fiscal year or more frequently if determined to be in the interest of USDA and as fiscal imperatives allow. This advisory committee will advise the USDA on many critical issues which include matters such as antimicrobial resistance which presents significant ongoing challenges; and foreign animal disease outbreaks (e.g., FMD, Highly Pathogenic Avian Influenza, vaccine readiness, and emergency response). The Committee conducts a public advisory meeting at least once each year and convenes administratively to prepare for public meetings and produce reports up to six times each year. The Committee may also conduct virtual public meetings via media forums, e.g., AdobeConnect webinars as necessary.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

The committee comprised of industry, academia, and state government officials considered issues affecting animal health, including threats and the impacts on the agricultural industry. The current membership has two broad-based SGE experts. The remaining 18 members are versed in matters affecting animal health generally and all bring diverse perspectives together as representatives in order to adequately represent the issues and challenges faced by their constituencies and consumers. This Committee remains relevant to tackling emerging and standing animal health issues.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

All meetings are open to the public and no portion of those meetings are ever closed.

21. Remarks

No meetings were held in FY 2021 due to the review of committee status according to the President's Executive Order. The committee charter expired in December 2021 and memberships. During this time, APHIS has identified and used other methods and procedures, including those in the upcoming Farm Bill process, to engage and solicit feedback from its various stakeholders. As APHIS gathers stakeholder feedback and input through other mechanisms, APHIS recommends terminating this Committee to decrease redundancies and increase Agency efficiency.
