20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The Board of Scientific Counselors, National Center for Health Marketing (NCHM) advises the Secretary, HHS, and the Director, CDC, on strategies and goals for the programs and research within the national center. The board accomplishes its purpose by conducting at least two meetings per year to provide recommendations to the National Center, and collaborates with NCHM to apply solid science and evidence-based research and practice as the cornerstone of health marketing and health communications activities in order to improve its program.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

The board consists of nine members, with expertise and knowledge in the fields of marketing and communication research; marketing and communication practice; public health partnerships; and social and behavioral science. The board also seeks racial, ethnic, and geographical balance in its membership.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

The board met once during Fiscal Year (FY) 2010 due to the CDC reorganization. The meeting provided a forum for the board to exchange information and expertise in the health marketing arena, and discuss the direction of future activities at CDC.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

Expert advice and guidance by the BSC assisted the national center in reframing CDC's health marketing and health communications portfolio to focus on individual empowerment and control of health. Advice from this Board contributed significantly to program activities and assisted the national center with strategic planning.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

N/A

21. Remarks

What is the approximate Number of recommendations produced by this committee for the life of the committee?

Number of Recommendations Comments

The BSC made recommendations to the national center in order to strengthen and/or refine its programmatic activities. The recommendations addressed the following: that

CDC should play a key role in the important field of health policy communication; the need for CDC to prioritize its health marketing and communication science activities due to the cross-cutting nature of these projects and the lack of resources; and that CDC should evaluate its health marketing portfolio and focus on priority areas as opposed to a broad range of activities.

What is the approximate Percentage of these recommendations that have been or will be Fully implemented by the agency?

% of Recommendations Fully Implemented Comments

At the recommendation of the Board, CDC will continue to focus on and participate in meaningful health marketing activities, including the Healthiest Nations Alliance and CDC's four agency-wide health protection goals.

What is the approximate Percentage of these recommendations that have been or will be Partially implemented by the agency?

% of Recommendations Partially Implemented Comments

Due to input from the board, the national center created a solid body of health marketing and communication research; established a solid organizational structure and obtained external guidance; and initiated a new health literacy project.
