20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The Division supports a wide range of projects aimed at developing and exploring the properties and applications of mathematical structures. Most of these projects represent the research programs of single investigators or small groups of investigators working with graduate students and postdoctoral researchers.. The Special Emphasis Panels advise on the merits of these special initiative proposals and applications. Over 2400 proposals were received in the division this year.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

Membership is selected in response to specific proposals and applications to be reviewed. More than 400 individuals served as panelists in FY 02. Members were selected for their demonstrated scientific and engineering expertise so as to represent a reasonable balance of capability in the various subfields of the proposals to be reviewed. Consideration was given to achieving geographic balance and to enhancing representation for women, minority, junior investigators, and persons with disabilities.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

Thirty-one meetings were held for continuance of advice on special initiative proposals or applications submitted to NSF for financial support.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

While ad hoc mail reviewers can be chosen to give a thorough technical review of a proposal, mail reviewer judgments are normally made about a single proposal viewed in isolation. Panel review in combination with mail review, can, in addition, provide judgments about the comparative merits within a group of proposals or within a single complex, multidisciplinary proposal or a facility.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

Reviewed proposals included information of a proprietary or confidential nature, including technical information; financial data, such as salaries; and personal information concerning individuals associated with the proposals.

21. Remarks

Designated Federal Officer

Deborah F Lockhart Acting Executive Officer
